Moses A. Duckworth February 8th AD 1889.
W. A. Duckworth January 14th AD 1918.
Thos. G. Duckworth November 3rd 1918.

I, Malcolm E. Gardner of 9 Natchez Trace Parkway, Tupelo, Mississippi, do hereby swear that about the year 1921 in Hamburg, Arkansas, I personally made a verbatim copy of the three record pages of the family Bible of William Y. Duckworth (1825-1889) of Ashley County, Arkansas. The Bible was then in the custody of my grandmother, Estelle (Adams) Duckworth, widow of Thomas G. Duckworth (1848-1918). This Bible is last known to have been in possession of F. R. W. "Judge" Duckworth, who died April 4, 1933, in Ashley County. Subsequent whereabouts of the old Bible are unknown to me. The entries were in various hands, and ornate capital letters caused some uncertainties, as between J and I, J and Y, and R and F. With this reservation, I hereby certify that the foregoing two-page typescript is a true and correct copy of the original Bible record.

(Signed) Malcolm E. Gardner

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 27 day of January, 1964.

Notary Public

My commission expires Aug. 17, 1967.

Copied from the original Bible and submitted by - Malcolm E. Duckworth
Address - Apt. 510, 1201 South Scott Street, Arlington, Virginia 22204
Date copied - 1961

Note: This is a verbatim copy of the family record from the Bible of Thomas Gaines Duckworth, in the possession of his daughter, Mrs. Dudley D. Gardner, born Maude Duckworth, of Hamburg, Arkansas. Photostats are in the hands of Kenneth Duckworth, Crossett, Arkansas, and Malcolm Gardner, Tupelo, Mississippi. Thomas G. Duckworth was a son of William Y. and Civilla (or Savilla) Welborn Duckworth. In the winter of 1850-51 the family moved from Smith County, Miss. to Ashley County, Arkansas. Tom Duckworth spent the rest of his life near Milo, the western part of Ashley County, and there all his children were born.

Note: This compiler does not know the whereabouts of the old Bible or the page for deaths. Photostats of the originals of the marriage and birth pages are in the possession of Mrs. Clara Duckworth Barker, Los Angeles, Calif., Mrs. Hazel Duckworth Huckabee, Tyler, Texas, and Malcolm E. Gardner, Tupelo, Mississippi, R. W. Duckworth's daughter, granddaughter and great-nephew, respectively. This record does not include the birth in May 1907 of Jewel Duckworth, youngest child of R. W. and Ellen Duckworth.

The birth of Franklin Robert Welborn ("Judge") Duckworth was entered as "F. W. Duckworth 20 day of October AD 1856" in the Bible record of his father, William Y. Duckworth of Ashley County. A further commentary on the accuracy and consistency of old records: He is listed as "A.W." Duckworth, aged 3 and born in Arkansas, in his father's household at the time of the 1860 Census. He is not named in the 1870 Census in Ashley County. On R. W. Duckworth's tombstone in Egypt Cemetery, in Ashley County, are the dates, October 25, 1854, and April 4, 1933, for birth and death; his half-brother, Edd (E.C.C.) Duckworth, was administrator of the estate. A. W., F. W., R. W., and F. R. W. Duckworth are the same individual. - Malcolm E. Gardner, 1965.

See William Younger Duckworth Bible, this Volume, pp 24-25.
F. R. W. Duckworth was a son of Wm. Y. & Civilla Jane Welborn Duckworth.

JOSEPH, JACOB, AND JEREMIAH DUCKWORTH OF NORTH CAROLINA

Extant records for North Carolina (for the colonial period and the first 50 years of independence) include some occasional and fragmentary references to possibly six or eight Duckworths with the given names of Jacob, Jeremiah, and Joseph. It seems desirable to set forth our information on these three names to see if we can identify them and their connections and distinguish among those who may have the same first name.

The searcher should keep in mind variant spellings of Duckworth (as Ducksworth, Dukeworth, Duzworth) and its sometimes being abbreviated to just "Duck". In Mecklenburg Co., N. C., a fairly numerous family there is tabulated in the 1790 census under the name "Duck", but in both earlier and later records, these same people clearly appear as Duckworth. However, Duck is also a real surname and not necessarily a diminutive for Duckworth, so caution is essential.

One Joseph Ducksworth made his will in Moore Co., N.C., on 22 Aug. 1817 (proved in May 1818 term of Court). He left all his real and personal property to wife Hannah, except for a token bequest of 20 shillings to the heirs of each of his brothers, Jeremiah and Jacob Duckworth. On wife Hannah's death his seven slaves, all named, were to be set free and the residue of the estate divided among them. Wife Hannah and Bryan Boroughs were named executors. Joseph signed by mark; witnesses were Moses Teague, James McCall, William Boroughs. The widow Hannah was the only white in her household in the 1820 Census for Moore County (p. 312) and enumerated with her were seven slaves. She made her will 11 Sept. 1828, leaving her property to her "servants" (as set out in Joseph's will). Daniel McNeill, Jr., was executor; witnesses were John Danelly(?), James M. King, Jesse Peirce. (Moore Co., N. C. Wills, etc., Books A, p. 365; B, p. 65)

Joseph Duckworth appears to have been a resident of Moore County from the time of its formation, probably by virtue of his being a resident of that part of Cumberland made into Moore in 1784. He was called for jury service in Aug. and Nov. 1784, and served on the Grand Jury in Jan. 1785. He bought land from John Blanchett, deed recorded Feb. 1786, and a slave from Jesse Griffin in 1792. (Moore Co., N. C., Book A, pp. 5, 13, 16, 166, 375) The jury service at this early period indicates him as a landowner.

The 1790 Census for North Carolina names as heads of family two Joseph Duckworths, one in Moore County and another in Anson (pp. 44, 36); in the former are tabulated one white male 16 or over, one under 16, four females, one slave. In Moore County in the 1800 Census (p. 244) Joseph and his wife are both listed in the 45 or over age category, so born before 1755, with one girl under 10, and two boys and a girl 10-16. We do not know the identify of a Jesse Duckworth also in Moore in 1790, but not named head of family there in 1800.

On 30 Oct. 1794, Joseph Duckworth (and Ducksworth in same record) entered 300 acres "Joining McNeill's line and William Davises line on the South Side of Deep River and on both Sides of Lick Creek" in Moore County. Survey was made by John Hargrove on 24 Aug. 1797, with Neil McIntosh and William McDonald as chainmen. Patent was issued 16 March 1799. (Moore Co., N. C., Survey File 1121; Patent Book 105, p. 28; N. C. Land Office, Raleigh)

From Joseph's 1817 will in Moore County we conclude that he had no then living children or grandchildren; the mention of the heirs of his brothers, Jeremiah and Jacob, indicates those two as then dead, probably his only siblings with children alive in 1817. The legacy of 20 shillings to each set of heirs cut them off from claim to any other of Joseph's estate after his widow's death. We simply do not know the identity of the young persons in Joseph's household in 1790, 1800, or 1810 - possibly children who died before 1817, or possibly orphaned nephews or nieces of one or the other of this couple.

In search of Joseph's antecedents and other connections we turn to Moore's parent county, Cumberland, formed in 1754, from Bladen County. Tax lists of 1755 in Cumberland do not carry the name of Duckworth or Duck.

A tract of 195 acres, south of Deep River, on McClendon or Black Creek, and joining John Carroll, was surveyed in Sept. 1768, for Joseph Duckworth. Survey chainmen were John Carroll and Joseph Duckworth, Sr. (So two Josephs were then in this vicinity.) Grant was issued 4 May 1769. A survey plat for John Hunnicutt, Jr., was prepared 5 Feb. 1770, for a 100-acre grant "in Cumberland County on the Lower side of Deep River", joining "Joel McClendon's or Gabriel Hardins Lower Corner and ... Joseph Duckworth Jun^r his upper Line ... to a Hickory on the River Bank." (Cumberland Co., N. C., Survey Files 876, 1104; N. C. Patent Books 20, p. 421; 27, p. 176)

By deed of 24 Oct. 1774, "Joseph Duckworth Jun^r of Cumberland ... Planter" sold to John Harden of the same county, for £70 "proc Money", the 195 acres south of Deep River and "near John Carrells land." The deed was signed by mark "E" and witnessed by James McDonald and Las Pennington. (Cumberland Co., N. C., Deed Book 6, p. 298)

By deed of 13 Aug. 1771, James Muse of Cumberland sold to Jacob Duckworth (and Dukeworth) of Chatham County (set up from Orange in 1771, and then just north of Cumberland), for £30 proclamation money, "200 acres taken up by James Muse on McClendons or Black Creek ... East of a place called the Lundhicyl? and about half mile below the mouth of Mill Creek." Witnesses were John (i) Overton and Joseph (X) Duckworth. (Cumberland Co., N. C., Deed Book 4, p. 409) Thus it appears that Joseph Duckworth, Jr., and Jacob Duckworth were both landowners by 1771, on McClendon or Black Creek in Cumberland, and in that vicinity was a Joseph, Sr. The compiler has seen no record of disposal of Jacob's 200-acre tract in Cumberland by either him or his heirs. (A record of the disposal of this tract could provide significant data as to Jacob's identity, but such is not under Duckworth in the present deed indexes for either Cumberland or Moore. A further search might require page-by-page examination of extant deed books for about 1780 to 1820, in both counties.)

Jacob Duckworth is named occasionally in some extant Cumberland County Court Minutes. In October term 1777, he was listed as Captain of District No. 9, among the 12 taxing and militia districts into which the county was divided. Other officials of that district were William Seale as Justice of the Peace, John Weighlat as Constable, with John Overton, Jacob Duckworth, and Willis Dickerson as Tax Assessors. In Jan. 1778, Philip Alston, Esqr., was listed as J.P. in Capt. Duckworth's district to administer the oath of allegiance, as also in April 1778. Jacob Duckworth was one of a venire of 30 ordered to attend July Court 1778, for jury service. In that same term of Court Willis Dickerson, Conner Dowd, and James Muse were appointed "tax gatherers" in Jacob Duckworth's district. (Cumberland Co., N. C., Minutes, 1777-1778, pp. 61A, 66A, 69A, 72A, 74A; N. C. Archives, Raleigh)

In July Court 1779, in Cumberland, for Capt. Jacob Duckworth, were listed Thomas Matthews and John Gordon, Assessors, and John Weighlat, Constable. In Jan. Court 1780, Robert Cobb, Malcom McNeill, and William Rand were appointed assessors in the districts of Cpts. Duckworth, Cox, and Gilmore to reassess and value the taxable property "agreeable to the inventories now in the possession of the Clerk." In Oct. Court 1780: "...Will^m Seal Esquire to Receive from the Inhabitants of Cap^t Duckworths District the Inventory of their Taxable Property for the same year", 1780. In Jan. Court 1781: "Ordered that William Rand do make a Return of the Districts (Viz) Cap^t. Duckworths, Cap^t. Cox & Cap^t. Heard's Districts." In Jan. Court 1782, a listing of the 12 militia and taxing districts does not include Cap^t. Duckworth, he apparently having been succeeded by Cap^t. John Hunnicutt. (Ibid., Minutes 1779-1782, pp. 37, 51, 60, 70, 77, 86)

A Jacob Duckworth and his presumed brother Joseph appear in some extent Cumberland County tax rolls in the N. C. Archives, Raleigh, dating from the Revolutionary period. In 1777, in District 9, were named 90 taxables in "Taxable Property in Jacob Duckworth district 1777" (at head of list on first page, but "Captain Duckworth district" on second and third pages). Jacob Duckworth's assessed valuation was £370; that of Joseph, £400. In "Captain Duckworths district 1778", Jacob was assessed for £370 and Joseph for £2000. (Ibid., Tax Lists, folio 12, p. 1, for 1777; folio 26, pp. 1-2, for 1778; in N. C. Archives)

No Jacob Duckworth is listed in 1779 and 1780, in "Cap^t Duckworth's District" (possibly absent on military service), but Joseph is in both, for £315 in the latter. The 1781 and 1782 tax lists for Cumberland seem lost, the N. C. Archives having only individual sub-totals of valuation for each of the militia districts, but no Cap^t. Duckworth is identified with either of these. In 1783, in Cap^t. John Hunnicutt's district, was a J. Duckworth, for £224, probably Joseph. (Ibid., Tax Lists in manuscript for years as cited, in N. C. Archives)

Many of North Carolina's records of the Revolutionary War are long lost, but in extent audits and settlements of the State's war debts are occasional references to two or more men named Jacob and Joseph Duckworth and Duck.

By Certificates 5789 and 5790, both dated 1 Oct. 1783, issued by the "Hillsborough Auditors Office" to Jacob Duckworth and Joseph Duckworth, respectively, each "Exhibited his Claim & was Allowed" £13-33. On the same date and by the same Auditors, Jacob Duckworth was allowed £50-12-6, No. 5356, and Joseph Duckworth £13-10, No. 5367. By Certificate 4507, 23 Jan. 1782, auditors in Halifax District approved a Jacob Duck's claim for 8 shillings. (from Treasurer's and Comptroller's Papers, Revolutionary Pay Vouchers, N. C. Archives, Raleigh) These particular certificates or vouchers do not indicate if for military duty or civilian service, or for supplies, and they provide little information to facilitate identifications. However, a Joseph Duck received Certificate 1814 for £7 specified as for militia service, under "Claims allowed and passed by the Board of Auditors for the District of Wilmington from the 16th of July 1783 (included) to the 19th of March 1784". (Rev. Army Accounts, v. V, pp. 53-55, N. C. Archives)

By Certificate No. 4091, "For ... the Militia of North and South Carolina and Virginia allowed by the Auditors of Hillsboro District as P[er] Report 84", as of 1 Oct. 1783, payment of £433-12-6 was approved "To Captain Jacob Ducksworth for Militia Services of himself and Comp^y as P[er] payroll N^o 5356-5386." (Revolutionary War Accounts, U. S. to State of N. C., Book C, p. 123) We assume this Capt. Jacob Duckworth of the Hillsboro District to be identical with the captain of Cumberland County militia.

Under the pension law of 1832, most veterans of the Revolution, then still living, applied to the Central Government and gave detailed affidavits of claim for pension. James Martin was living in Franklin Co., Ga., in 1837, when he submitted his claim. He was born 1760, in Chatham Co., N. C., and living there during the Revolution. For a second tour of duty, "He was again drafted in the first of Nov^r 1780 - and entered the service at Lutrells Barrack Chatham County N. C. as a light horseman ... appointed first Sergeant by Colo Lutrell, under Captain Jacob Duck [sic], ... occasionally taking scouts after the Tories", then joined General Greene at Guilford Courthouse, serving three months. (Rev. Pensions, No. R 6968, National Archives, Washington)

James (X) Campbell was living in Carter Co., Tenn., when he applied for pension in 1833. He deposed that he was born in Oct. 1756, in Moore Co., N. C. (probably in that part of Cumberland County cut off in 1784 to form Moore). His second tour in the militia was under "Col Wayde to go against the Tories who had embodied on Peedee ... & then returned home to Moore County ... immediately upon his return the tories in his vicinity was depredating in the neighborhood & [he] volunteered under Captain Jacob Duck [sic] & Col Philip Alston to go against said tories & ranged the Country in pursuit of the celebrated Fannan the tory leader, & who had a body of tories under him, & remained in said service for two months and was verbally discharged by Col Alston ... in the fall of the year 1780!" (Rev. Pensions, No. S 1647, National Archives)

Of Capt. Jacob Duckworth we are presently certain of little from surviving records contemporaneous with him. He may be the Jacob "Duck" named in a muster of Capt. Richard Pierce's militia, Col. Samuel Smith, 7 Oct. 1766, possibly in the part of Orange County made into Chatham in 1771 (Saunders, Colonial Records of North Carolina, v. 7, p. 263). Duckworth was identified as resident of Chatham County (cut off from Orange in 1771) when he bought land in Cumberland County from James Muse in Aug. 1771. As he was then old enough to buy land, we must accept his birth as before 1750 (and not 21 March 1755, as given in DAR membership papers). As a captain of one of Cumberland's militia districts, between 1777 and 1780, he would need to be old enough and to have the maturity and experience to deal with men and events, but not too old for arduous duty in the field.

Not well documented are Capt. Jacob's whereabouts after 1780 (when he was clearly in Cumberland Co., N. C.), when or where he died, or the names of his wife (or wives) and children. However, in nearby Anson County are references in 1787 to a suit "Wm. Fallner vs Jacob Duckworth" and a fine or forfeiture against Joseph Duckworth of one pound. (Carolina Genealogical Society Bulletin, v. 9, pp. 16-17; copied from Anson Co., N. C., loose papers, Miscellaneous Box 1, CR 5 901.1 in N. C. Archives, Raleigh)

As concerns Capt. Jacob Duckworth, some working hypotheses for more detailed study are: (1) Jacob died in Anson Co., N. C., between 1787 and 1790, as Joseph is the only Duckworth named in Anson in the 1790 Census; (2) Jacob's widow is the Charity Duckworth buying land in Anson in 1792, and selling it in 1795; (3) Jacob's older sons were Benjamin (selling 350 acres in 1799 and 1780) and Joseph; (4) These three Duckworths - Benjamin, Joseph, and their presumed mother Charity (with two sons 10-16 and two 16-26) - had moved from Anson Co., N. C., in time to be listed in the 1800 Census in the Pendleton District, S. C.; and (5) Capt. Jacob appears father of six sons - Benjamin, Joseph, Jacob, Obadiah, George, and Williams. Capt. Jacob was clearly dead by 22 Aug. 1817, when Joseph's will referred to "the Heirs of my Brother Jacob Ducksworth."

Chatham Co., N. C., was formed in 1771, from Orange County, and lay on the north side of Deep River, which became the boundary between Chatham and Cumberland. (It will be recalled that Jacob Duckworth was identified as of Chatham County in Aug. 1771, when he bought 200 acres in Cumberland.) On 11 April 1780, there was surveyed for a Joseph Duckworth 150 acres in Chatham "On the North side of Deep River beginning in Williams's Line thence to a Line agreed on with Benjamin Cooper ... to Gabriel Hardins Line." Chainbearers were Alexander Camel (Campbell?) and Jesse Mitchell. Patent was issued 23 Oct. 1782. (Chatham Co., N. C., Survey File 627; Patent Book 48, p. 28; all in N. C. Land Office, Raleigh)

This seems the same tract of land, subject of a Sheriff's Deed, 10 May 1809: "Thomas Ragland Esquire former Sheriff" to Reding Bryan, for high bid of £86, 150 acres "on the North side of Deep River ... now in the possession of Reding Bryan formerly called Padgetts old place & joining Philip Hosoney[?] & Reding Bryan ... by virtue of an Execution issuing from the County Court of Chatham ... [for £403-18-7, date not given] recovered by Ephraim Padgett assign^t against Joseph Duck as on Record may appear ... no goods or Chattels to be found." (Chatham Co., N. C., Book P. pp. 331-33)

We may wonder if the Joseph Duckworth receiving the 150-acre patent in Chatham in 1782 was the elusive Joseph, Sr., in Cumberland in 1768, or his presumed son Joseph, Jr., of Cumberland and Moore Counties from 1768 to 1818, or the Joseph Duckworth of Anson County in the 1790 Census, or a fourth contemporary of the same name, presently unknown to this compiler.

In addition to the Joseph Duckworth in Moore County in the 1790 Census was another Joseph, head of family in Anson Co., N. C.; enumerated in the latter's household were two white males 16 and over, two under 16, and two females, no slaves. This Joseph seems to have owned no land in Anson County. However, in Anson between Nov. 1792 and Jan. 1800, the widow Charity Duckworth and a Benjamin Duckworth (and Duck) appear in Anson County land records. (Anson Co., N. C., Deed Books C 2, p. 150; D, p. 160; F, p. 152; G, p. 24; H 2, p. 4) All three of these are named heads of family in Pendleton District, S. C., in the 1800 Census, supposedly taken as of the first Monday in August; they seem to have left Anson in 1799, or early 1800. In the 1800 Census in Pendleton, Charity is over 45, so born before 1755. Correlation of census returns and other data for Benjamin and this

Joseph Duckworth seem to indicate their births as about 1765-1770, probably sons of Charity. (For some organized confusion on this family, see the compiler's "Early Duckworths of the Old Pendleton District, South Carolina", 1972, 7 pages.)

Among the Duckworths of the Pendleton District is a puzzling Jacob Duckworth, claimed by some of his descendants to be the same man who was a N. C. militia captain during the Revolution, and this identification has been accepted by the DAR. Some of the apparently inconsistent data, presently at hand, require the compiler to suggest that consideration be given to the possibility that overly zealous descendants have managed to confuse personal details on two or three different men of the same name and have ascribed such data as though relating to only one individual.

On the tombstone of Jacob Duckworth and wife Ann (apparently erected about a hundred years after their deaths) in present Anderson Co., S.C. (part of earlier Pendleton District) have been placed his dates as 21 March 1755 - 11 Feb. 1842, and "NC Capt/NC Mil/Rev. War." Wife Annie Welborn's dates are given as 1780 - 19 Feb. 1845. Both died intestate and their oldest son, Thomas, applied for letters of administration for Jacob's estate on 31 Jan. 1842, and for Ann's estate on 8 Nov. 1844. (Ross Smith, Book of the Dead, [Anderson Co., S.C., cemetery inscriptions] 2nd ed., pp. 114-15, 417; Anderson Co., S.C., Probate Records, Jacob and Ann Duckworth Estates, Files 937 and 995; Roberta P. Wakefield, "Miscellaneous Genealogical and Cemetery Records of Several Southern Families", 1942, pp. 93-96; unpublished typescript in Library of the National Genealogical Society, Washington, D.C.)

As the tombstone dates of death given for Jacob and Ann Duckworth are obviously in error, we are entitled to take a second look at their reputed dates of birth - 21 March 1755, and 1780 - and to ask the source of such information before it was given to the tombstone cutter. Jacob Duckworth and Ann Welborn are said married about 1802, and he appears as head of family in Pendleton District (Anderson County) in four censuses, 1810-1840. Correlation of the successive age categories would indicate his birth as about 1770-1775, not 1755, and his wife's birth as about 1784-1790, not in 1780. If this Jacob were really born in 1755, and sufficiently seasoned to be a frontier militia captain in 1777, at the age of 22, we need to know something of his whereabouts and activities between 1780, in Cumberland Co., N.C., and his marriage in S.C. about 1802, at the age of 47.

Also, we would want to know why he did not apply for pension as a soldier in the Revolution under the Act of 1832. If Jacob was born about 1770-1775, as indicated by the censuses, he seems too old to be son of either Joseph or Benjamin Duckworth of Pendleton. A more reasonable conjecture is that he was a younger brother of theirs and another son of Capt. Jacob and Charity Duckworth, one of the four youths in her household in 1800, and that DAR papers mistakenly wrapped together Capt. Jacob's military service in N.C. with not altogether accurate data on a namesake son in S.C.

A Jeremiah Duckworth appears in records of Orange Co., N.C., in May and Nov. 1764, as defendant in suits in debt brought individually by Isaac Raney, William Wiley, and Isaac Ramsey. (Ruth H. Shields, Minutes of the Court ... of Orange County ... North Carolina, 1752-1766, pp. 179, 181, 255) So, in 1764, Jeremiah was of age and old enough to be sued in Court. In the spring of 1768 "Jereⁿ" Duckworth signed a Regulator petition from "the inhabitants of Orange County" in protest of heavy fees for centralized recordation of legal papers and other asserted oppressions by the Royal Governor and his agents. (William Saunders, Colonial Records of North Carolina, v. 7, p. 734)

Many of the dissidents precipitously fled from North Carolina to other provinces to escape harsh retaliation by the Royal Governor, wisely in view of the events immediately preceding and following the Battle of the Alamance, 16 May 1771. The compiler has seen no evidence as to Jeremiah's having been a landowner in Orange County or if he lived in that part cut off into Chatham in 1771.

On 7 Jan. 1772, the Governor and Council of Georgia approved "Petition of Jeremiah Duckworth setting forth that he had been some time in the province had a wife and six children but never had any land granted him ... praying for three hundred Acres of Land on the Little Kioka [Kiokee] about four Miles above the Mouth thereof." (Allen D. Candler, Colonial Records of Georgia, v. 12, p. 170) Grant was issued in 1773, for this 300-acre tract in the then St. Pauls Parish, later Richmond County. He received a grant of 150 acres in 1774, in St. Philips Parish, divided into Chatham and Effingham Counties in 1777. (S. E. Lucas, comp. Index to Headright and Bounty Grants of Georgia, 1756-1909; Grant Books I, p. 851; II, p. 178, in Georgia Surveyor-General Department, Atlanta)

On the basis of Jeremiah's having six children in Jan. 1772, we may roughly postulate his marriage as around 1760, and his birth at around or before 1740. His wife was Christian (or Christeen), daughter of John Ramsey, who received head-right land on Little Kichee in 1772, and whose estate was settled in 1805. (Lucas, as cited, p. 541; Columbia Co., Ga., Book N, p. 220)

In 1784, by certification of Col. James McNeil, Jeremiah and Jacob Duckworth are entitled to bounty land, indicating them as having served in the Revolution. (L. L. Knight, Georgia's Roster of the Revolution [1920], pp. 68, 285, 380) Jeremiah received 250 acres in Wilkes County and Jacob 287 and 1/2 acres in Washington, possibly in the part cut off for Hancock County in Dec. 1793. Jeremiah patented three additional tracts in Wilkes - 450 acres in 1786, 200 in 1787, and 200 in 1805. (Lucas, as cited, pp. 173-74)

In a Wilkes County tax digest for 1785, Jeremiah "Duck" is listed with "2 polls, 2 slaves, 650 acres" and Jacob with "1 poll, 200 acres." (Grace G. Davidson, Early Records of Georgia, v. 2, Wilkes County [1932], p. 66) In Wilkes County in 1793, Jeremiah, Joseph, and William Duckworth, all of Neal's militia district, are assessed for 400, 194, and 401 acres, respectively. In 1794, these three are in the same militia district (now in newly created Warren County), and Joseph has increased his land holdings to 240 acres. Still in Warren County in 1805, are William on Uptons Creek, Joseph on Briar Creek (now 505 acres), and Jeremiah on Whites Creek (down to 200 acres). Also on Whites Creek now is Randal Duckworth with 300 acres. In Hancock County in 1812, Jacob Duckworth is assessed for 590 acres (on Dry Creek in Hancock) and 202 and 1/2 acres (Lot 248, District 23, in Wilkinson County), and a Jeremiah and Thomas Duckworth are assessed only for their polls. (Ruth Blair, Some Early Tax Digests of Georgia [1926], pp. 284-85, 184-85, 214-16, 41)

The federal censuses of 1790-1810, for Georgia, are lost and the nearest overall geographical index to the whereabouts of Georgia heads of family, before the 1820 Census, is the 1805 Land Lottery based on data as of 1802. In the 1805 Lottery, Jeremiah, Joseph, Randal, and William Duckworth of Warren County, and Jacob "Duxworth" of adjoining Hancock County, each had two draws, indicating them as family men and residents of Georgia in 1802. A William "Duck" in Warren County got one draw, so a bachelor and presumably of age in 1802. None drew a "prize". (Virginia A. and Ralph V. Wood, 1805 Georgia Land Lottery [1964], pp. 97, 100)

As already noted, Jacob Duckworth received a bounty grant of 287 and 1/2 acres in Washington County in 1784, and another grant of 200 acres in Wilkes in 1787. In a deed of 4 Jan. 1793, Jacob Duckworth, then identified as resident of Washington County, bought from Samuel Wilson for $80 a tract of land (acreage not specified), apparently in the part of Washington that subsequently fell into Hancock County and was recorded there. (Hancock Co., Ga., Deed, 1793-1795, pp. 123-24) Jacob Duckworth is a private on pay and muster rolls (apparently for July 1793) "of a detachment of militia in the County of Hancock and State of Georgia, in the service of the United States", under Lieut. Eli Townsend. (Records of Volunteer Soldiers, 1784-1811, National Archives, Washington)

Jacob Duckworth is identified as of Hancock County on 24 July 1794, when he bought from Jeremiah Duckworth of Warren County for $150 a tract (acreage not given, but part of a 400-acre holding). Joseph Duckworth is one witness to this deed. Jacob Duckworth is still of Hancock County on 15 June 1797, when, signing by mark, he sold to Joseph Duckworth of Warren, for $400, 374 acres. Randal Duckworth witnessed this deed. In both instances the land is identified as on Bryar Creek in Warren County, with Jacob Duckworth an adjoining land owner on the east. (Warren Co., Ga. Deed Book A, pp. 298-301)

Jeremiah Duckworth was dead, without a will, before 6 Nov. 1809, in Warren County, Ga., when the Court appointed his sons, Joseph and Randal, administrators of the estate. A son, William, seems to have died in Warren County a few months before his father as his widow, Rebecca (daughter of Thomas Ansley) and his brother, Joseph Duckworth, were named administrators for that estate on 6 March 1809. The latter was appointed guardian, on 1 March 1813, of William Duckworth's minor children: Polly, Rebecca, Samuel (over 14), Nelly, Joseph, and Gazaway (under 14). There were older children, already of age or married. (from Columbia and Warren County records, courtesy of Mrs. Pearl Baker, Thomson, Ga.)

Jeremiah's son, Joseph, married Ann (Nancy) Ansley, served as Justice in Warren County, but had moved by 1820, to Jones County, Ga., where he died sine prole in 1827. (Jones Co., Ga., Will Book C, p. 156) Randal Duckworth was in Dallas Co., Ala., by 1820, and died there in 1851. His will, drawn 5 April 1840, named sons Allanson, Jeremiah, Randal, William, and five daughters. The 1850 Census indicates his birth as about 1771, in Georgia. (Dallas Co., Ala., Will Book B, p.28; 1850 Census, p. 519; family 374; courtesy of Mrs. Eugenia B. Gusdorf, Selma, Ala.)

The Jacob Duckworth who received bounty land in Washington County in 1784, was a resident of that county in early 1793, and then of successor Hancock County from 1793 into 1812, seems the eldest son of Jeremiah Duckworth, since Jacob was old enough for military service before 1783. As one or more men named Jacob Duckworth owned land in Washington, Warren, Hancock, and Wilkinson Counties between 1784 and 1812, a careful examination of those land and probate records, if still in existence, would probably provide much additional information.

In summary, we have reviewed fragmentary data presently at hand relating to persons named Joseph, Jacob, and Jeremiah Duckworth, who seem to have connections with North Carolina sometime between 1764 and 1818. Certainly, there were three brothers of these names. The incomplete evidence that we now have requires further investigation, evaluation, and correlation of four working hypotheses: (1) that the Joseph Duckworth, Sr., in Cumberland Co., N.C., in 1768, is the man of this name in Frederick Co., Va., 1752-1754, who married Esther (Hester) Ong (said daughter of Jacob Ong) in 1737, in Burlington Co., N.J., and was son of William and Grace Duckworth (died 1727, and 1728) and under 14, in May 1728, when the Burlington County Court named guardians for him and two sisters; (2) that Joseph and Esther (Ong) Duckworth are parents of three sons: Joseph Duckworth (d.s.p. 1818) of Cumberland and Moore Cos., N.C.; of Jacob Duckworth, land owner in Cumberland County by 1771, and militia captain, 1777-1780, whose claims for military service were reviewed in 1783, the Auditors of Hillsboro District approving payrolls for him and his militia company, and dead before 1817, when brother Joseph made his will; and of Jeremiah Duckworth of Orange Co., N.C., 1764-1768, in St. Pauls Parish, Ga., by Jan. 1772, died intestate about 1809, in Warren Co., Ga.; (3) that this Capt. Jacob Duckworth was dead before 1792, and that it was his widow, Charity, who bought land in Anson Co., N.C., and by 1800, was in Pendleton District, S.C.; and (4) that probably a descendant of one Jacob Duckworth (died about 1842) of Anderson Co., S.C., may have added his death date to a purported birth date of 15 March 1755 of still another Jacob and then these composite data to a third Jacob, captain of Cumberland County militia and certainly born 1750, or earlier.

While the pattern-of-names approach to genealogical answers is inconclusive, we note with interest the repetitive use of the given names of Jacob and Joseph and Hester (Esther and Ester) among the Duckworth connections of South Carolina, Georgia, and Mississippi.

Petition.

To the Honorable S. McMillan Chancellor of the 2^d Chancery District of the State of Mississippi.

Now petitioners Polly Duckworth, Joseph J. Duckworth, Elenor Spud. B. R. Spud her husband, Regiah Rogers, Nancy Rogers, Miskach Rogers, her husband, Francis C. Coletti, Harriett Wells her husband, Chasity Rawls, Benjamin Rawls her husband, Mary Rogers, Andrew Rogers her husband, Hester Hill, J. J. Hill her husband, Rebecca Rogers and Emily Rogers, her husband parties interested in the Estate of Gabud Duckworth late of Covington County in said State of Mississippi died, would respectfully show unto your Honor that they your said petitioners are the widow, son, daughters and sons in law of said deceased Gabud Duckworth who left besides your petitioners the following grand-children to wit: Amos Rogers Duckworth, Martha Spud & Joseph Spud her husband Sarah Francis Duckworth, Benjamin W. Duckworth, the two last mentioned being minors & Martha Rogers Annas Rogers, Nancy Rogers, B. L. Rogers, G. B. Rogers, H. Rogers, Abner Rogers, Travis Rogers Duane Rogers, all minors and grand children of said deceased, your petitioners would further show unto you that said deceased did seized and possessed of some personal estate which has been disposed of, and no debts remain unpaid against said Estate: said deceased also died seized and possessed of the following described lands to wit: The E 1/2 of SE 1/4 of Section 7 T. 1. R. 9 E. and SW 1/4 of SW 1/4 Sec 5 T. 1. R. 9 E. and NW 1/4 of NW 1/4 Sec 8 T. 1. R. 9 E. and NW 1/4 of NW 1/4 of Sec 17 T. 1. R. 9 E. lying and being situated on the county of Smith in said State. Also the SW 1/4 of NE 1/4 Sec 1 T. 8. Hi, I'm not sure if you're the correct person to address this inquiry to, but I'm interested in the history of your area around 1840.
Family tradition has it that one of my ancestors, Benjamin Duckworth from Covington County, MS, was en route to Mobile to buy slaves when he suddenly died at Moss Point (he would've been about 70 years old, so age might've been a factor in his demise). I've read brief hints here and there that Moss Point at that time was a base for slave piracy operations in the Gulf, and many shady dealings went on there.
If you can offer any enlightenment on this subject, I'd be most appreciative.

Thanks,

Craig R. Fennell

Dear Dr. and Mrs. Hough,

We enjoyed our trip to Oklahoma & Texas very much, and it was a pleasure to find the index to your book waiting here when we returned. Am enclosing $5. for a copy of the book.

You mentioned placing our Duckworth family records on file with the National Genealogical Society. Or with the Orange County Society. As far as I know none of this has been published. I did place a typed booklet, 60 or 70 pages, in the Freestone County Museum at Fairfield, Texas, about 3 years ago. And I have a complete set of index cards in the library of the Tennessee Genealogical Society.

It is quite possible that there are some errors, but I have checked it out the best I could over the past 6 years. If you think the societies you mentioned would want it, you certainly may send it. Perhaps it will bring additional information.

I believe it would be best to send this corrected sheet on Benjamin Duckworth. Because Malcolm Gardner has done such extensive research on DUCKWORTH, I respect his judgement. I have a copy of all his work. It is not indexed and a little difficult for that reason, but he does not believe that William was the son of Benjamin. William is his direct line. Hope this will meet with your approval.

Am looking forward to your book. It sounds good.

Sincerely yours,

Inez M.

Mrs. Clifton H. McClellan

Can send clean copies of the other sheets if you want it.

*There is a piece coming out in the Dec. issue of the Mesquite Historical + Genealogical Society^{Quarterly} - about my family - Grandpa Montooth + Grandpa Parsons who settled in Okla. City 1898 + 1902. mesquite is

Dear Ms Duckworth,

Many people are researching Benjamin Duckworth (1765-1840).

The information in the published Duckworth Genealogy about Benjamin Duckworth's death at Mobile, buried in Moss Point is only a story. There is and has never been any proof that it is true as far as we know. Especially, that he is buried in Moss Point. First of all, there was no Moss Point in existence until 1867. The general area was called East Pascagoula, and the point of land was sometimes nicknamed "Mossy Pen Point" by river men. There is no existing cemetery in Jackson County, Mississippi or Mobile County, Alabama which has a burial of Benjamin Duckworth, as far as all records we have found.

The only known cemeteries existing in the Moss Point/Pascagoula River area during the 1840's is the Elder Cemetery and the Krebs Cemetery. We have pretty good records of all the burials in them and they are all members of those families. There were two private cemeteries for Bradford and Rhodes and we have the burials identified.

Moss Point is some 40 miles from Mobile. He would not have even come through East Pascagoula if he was traveling by land. The road by land which went from Covington County to Mobile, is clearly marked on old maps. He would have come up the Pascagoula River and passed East Pascagoula and "Mossy Pen Point" if he traveled by water.

We have answered this same question many many times. We have not been able to find out any other information. Oral history and family stories passed down from generation to generation seem to be part fact, part speculation and part fiction. The telling changes each time the story is repeated. Once oral history is printed and published people seem to think it is fact and that the story has been proven. This story is an example of that. It COULD be absolute fact.

We just have no way to know.

Thank you for writing. and let us know if we can be of assistance again.

Dear Sir or Ma'am:

I am working on my family tree. I am looking for a grave in Moss Point. My GGGG-grandfather, Benjamin Duckworth, (1765-1840) died in Mobile, Al and was buried in Moss Point, MS.

Can you help me and tell me the name of the cemetery where he was buried. And the direction to that cemetery. Send back to me at the address above or you could e-mail me at coleduck@hotmail.com

I would appreciate your help.

Sincerely,

Dear Mr. Brown:

Thank you for your call concerning Benjamin Duckworth and his death date.

I have much information on the Duckworth's including the Duckworth Book by Sandra Boyd. Each and every reference includes the story that you have that he died in Moss Point when on his way back from a slave buying trip to Mobile.

No grave marker has been found for him in Moss Point, but there are many unmarked graves in the area and anyone of them could be his. Moss Point was the center of commerce and industry at the time of his death rather than Pascagoula.

It is my understanding that the estate papers of Benjamin Duckworth and the settlement of his estate are located in the Duckworth Collection at the Barker Library Center, University of Texas, Austin, TX. If this is correct then a copy of the estate would fix the date of death and would possibly give the place of death also. This information is contained in papers by Inez M. McClellan, C.G., 90 Carter Road, Santa Cruz, CA 95060. and I believe it to be correct.

If we can help further, please feel free to call upon us.

Sincerely,

Jean Strickland

Hi to all you Miss. researchers, whether residents of Miss. or not.<G> I live in Gautier, MS, on the Gulf Coast, and if any of you have ancestors from this area, I would be happy to check the Pascagoula library for you next time I am there. My husband and I are transplanted from TN and TX, and do not have any interest in researching this area. Stay warm and well in this chilly weather!

Hi Craig, I did get to the library today, and found a folder on the Duckworth family. There have been several inquiries on 'Ole Benjamin from time to time. However, according to the Genealogy librarian, the story of his death in Moss Point in 1840 may or may not be accurate. Moss Point was not organized until 1868, and only a very few families, two or three, lived on the 'bluff' that later became Moss Point. Plus, NO deaths were recorded in this area as early as 1840. There is no documentation to prove his death. Lib. Else Martin told me that they had checked Mobile, AL records looking for him, plus other areas, to no avail. There is another person in CA researching Benj. D., I believe his name is Granville Hough, and a man in OH has also inquired. If you would like to contact the library, here is their address: Pascagoula Public Library, 3214 S. Pascagoula St., Pascagoula, MS 39567. Phone # is 601-769-3000. Ask for the Genealogy Dept., and you will most likely get either Else Martin or Betty Rodgers at that #. They have quite a good collection of Miss.info, and have a computer with CD-ROM capability as well. Sorry I could not be of more help to you.

Hi Sue,

I have an ancestor who reportedly died en route to Mobile from Covington County, MS in 1840; family tradition has it that he was buried at Moss Point, MS. He was Benjamin Duckworth, and about 70 -75 years old at the time of presumed death. Maybe you could check up on this? (no rush, it's waited over 150 years, it can wait longer!)

Thanks!!

Staying warm and well in So Cal,
Craig

Thanks Sue!! The info on Moss Point is particularly interesting....on the map it seems a bit out of the way for travelling a direct route from Covington County to Mobile, unless a major hub of transportation was down in that vicinity -- and obviously Moss Point wasn't it! <g> (The "legend" also says he was travelling on business, to buy slaves). Anyway, I really appreciate the effort and the info on the library -- I'll get in touch with'em. Thanks again!

Hi Craig, Else Martin also told me that it was thought some illegal doings might have been going on in that area, Slave-pirating, etc, and the reason for the remote area was so their actions would not be noticed. Yes. Benjamin probably WASon business....<G> maybe monkey-business?? You will find the ladies at Pascagoula library to be most helpful, and good luck in your search.

Hmmm! More than one researcher's notes have remarked on Benjamin's "enterprising nature" when it came to land dealings in South Carolina (before he moved most of his family to Mississippi in the mid-1820's) -- despite his illiteracy. So maybe Benjamin got wind of an offer he couldn't refuse, but the deal went bad (very bad!), and THAT'S possibly why his estate wasn't settled for his heirs until 8 years after his presumed death....? Could it be I've TWO black sheep in the same line?! (Ever heard of the "Cowboy Preacher?" -- ask your parents, he was "big" in the South in the '30's.) Well, maybe ol' Ben is as interesting as all this. <G> ----- Thanks, Sue! Craig in SoCal
